

The pics and news article in this folder is my response to a friend's forwarding a scurrilous commentary from her Republican brother of two news pictures of the rescue of Ambassador Stevens.

Note the misspelling of the Ambassador's name.

"Notice how critical thinking is handled by many politicians. When the fact checkers show that they are absolutely incorrect, they attempt to discredit the fact checkers. Of course facts do matter, but making the correct connection between them is also important. But it is possible to lie about facts and convince people when the lie conforms to their existing paradigm." [J. Clement, 2012 09 22 phys-I list]

According to the Associated Press the pictured are of the rescuers (assuming the person is Ambassador Stevens).
